In Dilemmas of Difference Sarah A. Radcliffe explores the relationship of rural indigenous women in Ecuador to the development policies and actors that are ostensibly there to help ameliorate social and economic inequality. Radcliffe finds that development policy’s inability to recognize and reckon with the legacies of colonialism reinforces long-standing social hierarchies, thereby reproducing the very poverty and disempowerment they are there to solve. This ineffectiveness results from failures to acknowledge the local population’s diversity and a lack of accounting for the complex intersections of gender, race, ethnicity, class, and geography. As a result, projects often fail to match beneficiaries’ needs, certain groups are made invisible, and indigenous women become excluded from positions of authority. Drawing from a mix of ethnographic fieldwork and postcolonial and social theory, Radcliffe centers the perspectives of indigenous women to show how they craft practices and epistemologies that critique ineffective development methods, inform their political agendas, and shape their strategic interventions in public policy debates.

Sarah A. Radcliffe is Professor of Latin American Geography at the University of Cambridge and coauthor of Indigenous Development in the Andes: Culture, Power, and Transnationalism, also published by Duke University Press.

"Dilemmas of Difference is an important contribution to postcolonial studies and provides a critical understanding of the durability and malleability of particular development categories and concepts as they are deployed in the development practice. Deeply attentive to the subtleties and contradiction of forms of essentialism, Sarah A. Radcliffe’s arguments resonate widely not only in Latin America but across large parts of the Global South. This book will speak to audiences across the social sciences and humanities, both in and outside of Latin America.”—Michael J. Watts, author of Silent Violence: Food, Famine, and Peasantry in Northern Nigeria.

"Sarah A. Radcliffe’s wonderful new book shows how race, class, and gender continue to structure inequalities in the postcolonial present. Based on innovative collaborations with indigenous women’s organizations in Ecuador, this book is an important intervention into the politics of knowledge. She brings us the voices of indigenous women—the supposed beneficiaries of development—who bring their own situated knowledge to bear to critique both NGO development projects and the alternative model of vivir bien, creating new forms of citizenship in the process.”—Nancy Grey Postero, author of Now We Are Citizens: Indigenous Politics in Postmulticultural Bolivia.
ORDER FORM

Order online: www.dukeupress.edu/dilemmas-of-difference, or in the UK and Europe, www.combinedacademic.co.uk/dilemmas-of-difference

Order by mail: Orders must be accompanied by payment or credit card authorization.
Postage and handling charges for books ordered through Duke University Press: in the United States, add $5.00 for the first book and $1.00 for each additional copy; outside the United States, add $7.00 for the first book and $3.00 for each additional copy. Postage and handling charges for books ordered through Combined Academic Publishers, Ltd.: in the UK, add £2.75 for the first book and £0.50 for each additional copy; in Europe, add £3.50 for the first book and £3.50 for each additional copy.

___ Dilemmas of Difference, 6010-0 $27.95/£18.99, paper
___ Dilemmas of Difference, 5978-4 $99.95/£69.00 library cloth

$________ subtotal
$________ postage
$________ North Carolina residents, add applicable sales tax
$________ residents of Canada, add applicable G.S.T.
$________ TOTAL REMITTED

Ship to:
Name (please print) _____________________________________________________________________________________
Address _______________________________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________________________________
City/State __________________________________________________________  Zip______________________________
Daytime phone_________________________________________________________________________________________
Email address __________________________________________________________________________________________

Payment options:
I enclose my check for $__________ , payable to Duke University Press
Or, bill my VISA _____           MasterCard _____         American Express _____
Card number___________________________________________________________ Expiration date___________________
Signature______________________________________________________________________________________________

Duke University Press
Box 90660
Durham, NC 27708-0660
FAX 919-688-4391
www.dukeupress.edu

in the UK and Europe
Combined Academic Publishers, Ltd.
15a Lewin's Yard, East Street
Buckinghamshire HP5 1HQ
FAX (0)1494-581602
www.combinedacademic.co.uk